Yale-New Haven Hospital ENT and Plastic Surgery

The 20-bed ENT and Plastic Surgery Unit delivers exceptional post-operative nursing care to the Ear, Nose, Throat and Plastic patient populations. Our professional nursing caregivers have a combined total of almost 200 years of experience, and enjoy the opportunity to work with some of the most renowned physicians in the field — including Dr. Clarence Sasaki and Dr. John Persing.

From an ENT perspective, many of our patients are those who present some form of head and neck Cancer and require surgical intervention. Many are trached following their laryngectomy and neck dissection. Because of the nature of their disease, many of these patients will be readmitted over time, and as a result our staff often develop established relationships with both patients and their families. These patients and family members often require extensive teaching on airway management prior to discharge.

Our Plastic Surgery Patients are those who present for reconstructive procedures. Many have wounds or defects related to cancer or injuries, and require skin grafting and/or muscle flaps. This population also includes patients who require such emergent procedures as digit reimplantation.

COMMITTEES, PROGRAMS & ACTIVITIES

Yale-New Haven Hospital offers RNs the opportunity to participate in a wide range of committees, programs and activities designed to ensure that you have the tools and support to provide seamless patient care. Specific committee opportunities include:

- Striving For Excellence
- Hospital Skin Committee
- Cluster Pain Management Committee

LEARNING & PROFESSIONAL GROWTH

We’re looking for individuals who are committed to the profession, self-motivated to learn, appreciate a challenge and who – most importantly – want to make a difference for their patients and their patients’ families. You will see our dedication to supporting you in these endeavors at every step of your career, from competency-based orientations where dedicated preceptors facilitate your learning and foster your sense of belonging to a defined Clinical Ladder and dynamic Recognition and Career Advancement Program (RCAP).

We invite you to learn more about nursing on Yale-New Haven Hospital’s ENT & Plastic Surgery Unit by shadowing one of your colleagues in action. To arrange a shadow opportunity or to discuss our careers, please contact Kim Framski, RN, BSN, Clinical Manager, at (203) 688-2186.
